To Leslee

I would believe, child, maybe some
Wind had found you,
Just to take you where your
Boots couldn't follow.

You once said the sea would,
If you suspect truth in its waters
Imagine your spirit pure.
You have left our night of darkness
In a journey to the sea

SPORTS REVIEW

Head coach Mr. Garland Johnson, assistant coaches Mr. Bill Rodan and Mr. Harry Jameson, and the players did all in their power to put together a successful football season. Although a record of 2-6-1 is not very impressive, the LHS football team, plagued by injuries and bad breaks, did have a very satisfying season. Many of the losses were by one touchdown or less.

Led by captain Howie Rose, and then by Paul Hoffman after Howie was injured, the boys showed spirit throughout the season, and went into every game fighting. Eric Nelson came up with so many interceptions during the season that it looked as if the other team were passing to him; each one added to a more exciting game and to a more frustrated opposing team.

The amazing soccer team, under the direction of Mr. Arthur McManus, captured the league championship, with the help of high scorer Joe Fuller. With a record of 10-2-2, the LHS soccer entered the state tournament, winning their first game against Duxbury 1-0, but losing the second game 3-0 against state champion Needham. Tri-Captains Keith Barnes, Bruce McGlauflin and Steve Rich, with the rest of the team, showed the true sportsmanship and spirit that makes a team great.

The girls field hockey team, coached by Mrs. Gottlieb, highlighted its season by stopping at MacDonald's for hamburgers. Besides the expected frustrations confronting any team, the field hockey team encountered a continually confused but cheerful bus driver, who made the four hour bus rides enjoyable. As for morale, the team was always in good spirits, win or lose. With a coach like Mrs. Gottlieb, winning was second to learning a little and having a great time.

The cross-country team, coached by Mr. Bob Cutter, began their surge upward this year. The boys did a fine job and placed well in many meets. Dan Baker and Olin Brown gave much to the team's total efforts. Although cross-country is only in its second season, it is catching on fast and the team's enthusiasm seems to have no limit.

The basketball team, coached by Mr. Bob MacLeod, showed its great potential in such games as the victory over league-leading Westwood. Award winners Pete Grady and Steve Salt, along with Jeff Strout, Joe Fuller, Greg Barton and "Doc" Maddison kept the team's spirit high throughout the season.

The girl's basketball team, coached by Mrs. Gottlieb, once again had a fine season, ending up with nine wins and one loss. The team's greatest moment came in defeating Swampscott, previously unbeaten in two years, by a score of 38-34. Combined with the strong defense of Marcia Hollett and excellent shooting of Gail Woodworth, Linda Daniels, Kathy Cronin, and Diane Conant, the team was hard to beat.

The LHS hockey team this season won all but two games, heart-breakers which they lost to league-leading Wayland. The boys outshot Wayland 25-9 but "Showboat" Ron Clarke salvaged the games for Wayland with some great saves. The team once again continued what seems to be a tradition and made the state tournament. They played one of their finest games of the year against Melrose, with outstanding performances by all members of the team and crucial saves by goalie Howie Rose.

Also highlighting the year was the selection of the following team members for the All-League team: First String: Bobby Sparkes, Billy Mintiens, Kim Conlee; Second String: Jackie Conley; Honorable Mention: Brian Hurley (league high scorer). The new coach, Mr. Tryder, made a great hit with all the guys and, along with Co-Captains Greg Jaquith and Jack Conley, led the team through yet another winning season.

Coach Bob Lesser's baseball team is very strong this year and there could be a chance for the Dual County League crown. There are many fine players returning from last year. Players that should help the team a great deal are Jim Nugent, Jack Conley and Wayne Millen.

This year's winter track team, coached by Mr. Deems Hatch has improved greatly over the past two years. Its 3-4-0 record can be misleading as many meets were not decided until the very last race. The track meet against league champion Weston was particularly exciting. LHS came within four points of Weston, and it appeared as if the last race would again determine the victor; LHS lost by only a few yards. Captain Keith Barnes and high scorer Eric Nelson both kept the morale on the team high throughout the season.

The spring track team, coached by Mr. Bill Rodan, is looking to go all the way to the top. Captain Eric Nelson will undoubtedly contribute, as he is one of the league's best track men. "Boomy" Rich will dominate the league in pole vaulting and should go over fourteen feet. Other boys to watch are: Joe Fuller in the broad jump, Keith Barnes and Brian Lawn in the sprints, Alan Morrell, Dan Baker, Fred Wendt, Craig Burbank, and Olin Brown.

The girl's tennis team has much talent this year and should do very well. The team's strong points will be found in Amy Stevens, Jeannie Northrup, and Pam Gillespie. With three such excellent players, the team will be hard to beat.

This year's boy's tennis team has the potential of becoming very successful. There are ve returning lettermen: Danny Selig, Keith Quint, Tony De Beurs, Gregg Krause and Dick Campbell. There are also many bright prospective underclassmen coming up to help out.

The golf team, coached by Mr. Don Callbeck, has been and should be again, one of the top high school golf teams. Every year they have captured the Dual County League crown. With such returning pros as Dan Cherney, Pete Grady, Dave Butcher, and Bruce McGlauflin, they should have no trouble in maintaining their success.

The girl's softball team looks forward to another season. They have a chance to win a few games barring any further 27-error innings. Mrs. Gottlieb has hope of some hitting at least from the new sophomores. Captain Andy O'Connor will be going for her first shut-out.

Let us run
through slithering sands
to touch the sky
and the melting sun
that drips and sinks
to the sea,
And a gull cries
swirling to swoop
on the waves
alone
and free . . .
Let us float
with the weedy tendrils
that swish the rocks.
And lie embraced
by lucid tides
that swathe us
in foam-white locks.
Let us hide at dark
from the call of the land
and stay,
to play with the stars
and sleep
with the sea-swept sand.
But the land
creeps
through our earthly souls
and pulls us back
to the time ticked days.
Wrenched
from the green and golden
we must yield
to the cars and houses,
no longer free
we run
and hope for . . .
Let us weep
for the shore-caged sea.

Single is the race, single
of men and of gods
From a single mother we both draw breath.
But a difference of power in everything
Keeps us apart:
For the one is as nothing, but the brazen sky
Stays a first habitation forever.
Yet we can in greatness of mind
Or of body be like the immortals.
Though we know not to what goal
By day or in the night:
Fate has written that we shall run.

Within the curtained room we sit and speak
the words that prattle to the clinks of spoons
they swirl in the stirring of the tea, and sink
in china cups too old and safe to crack.

Beyond the white and lacy glass the wind
entreats the snow to dance its life away,
to feel the whippings of the boughs and blow
the rattling trees to grasp the sightless sun.

We hide beneath the shadows of the hearth
remarking how the air is chill outside,
and quiver when the door is left ajar,
and cards conceal . . . we play the endless game.
